From the Baron & Baroness

To the Sternfeld Populace, Greetings!

Hail and welcome to the newest Dragon heirs, Prince Cameron and Princess Amalie! Their Highnesses hail from our fair Barony, so you will hear much in the coming months of ways in which we all can combine our talents and time to assist Them with the preparations for Their summer rule and magnify the glory of the Kingdom. We are certain any help you can offer will be gladly received. Draco Invictus!

We also wish to give our thanks to everyone who volunteered their time and energy to help make Crown Tournament go off smoothly. It is a great source of pride to us that our Barony so willingly steps forward to organize these essential Kingdom events, and we found the day delightful.

The days grow colder and our final camping days are over, with thoughts turning to the warm indoor pursuits of art and archery, song and merry-making. We hope to see many of you at our practices and workshops over the coming months, honing combat skills and practicing the peaceful arts toward the improvement of your kit. For our newest comers, please feel welcome at these practices and work days! Our populace are enthusiastic and happy to share their knowledge and experience in order to help you get started in the areas that interest you most.

Yours in service,
Baron Úlfr and Baroness Odile

From the Chronicler

Greetings from your Chronicler.

This is my first issue of the Star. I thank the good gentiles of our fair Barony. I am looking forward to serving as the Chronicler in the months to come. I have been welcomed in with open arms and hearts.

I have so many hopes for the coming issues. I bring much excitement with me to office. The office itself has been rather busy this month with the change over fully taking effect and the new arrivals to our wonderful world.

Congrats to Lord Antonio and Lady Collette for the TWO bundles they brought forth this month! Also, to Lord Bjorn and Lady Ysabel for their great joy arriving this month (I'm sure much to her relief). Also, to Lady Valeria (I do apologize that I do not know proud papa's name) on her gift as well.

So many wonderful things going on!!! Well, off to track down more news.

YIS,

Lady Ambrosia Klein

From the Webminister

Buon Giorno,

It was an exciting month for me, if not as much for the website. Colette and I welcomed into the world our twins, Violet and Jasper. We'll make an effort to get them to Fighter Practice soon so people can meet them. They've already got distinct personalities - by far this is the most challenging thing I've ever done. But also the most rewarding.

I spent a good amount of time at the start of the month reviewing things and trying to get updates done on the website. If you are the leader of a special interest group with regular meetings, please send me updated information for your group's meetings. This would also be a good time to send me a list of topics for 2014, if that's the sort of thing your group does. Officers have already received multiple reminders from me about sending in their bio and picture - please do this at your earliest convenience.

Event sites for various events are in the process of being compiled. Next up: Yule and BWTA websites. Please send me updates.

YIS,
Antonio

P.S. This month's Star, the December issue, is a joint effort between the new Chronicler and myself. A November draft had been assembled, and then a family emergency cropped up – Ambrosia was not able to complete the issue, so I've taken her draft, added some additional information and done some editing. I submitted paperwork to become officially warranted as her deputy and will be filling in for her while she is unavailable. Please continue to send things to the Chronicler email account – I have access to it.

From the Property Master

From the Property Master: We have stuff. Almost two tons of it! We're looking into getting some more, and we will be discussing items that we will need or want to purchase in the next year at the Allthing on November 17th. If you have any suggestions for items the Barony should own, or how the Barony could make thing things we own more useful, or how we can better use the stuff we already have, please let me know at propertymaster@sternfeld.org!

From the Equestrian Marshal

We had 3 riders at the last practice, the off and on rain kept people away. Everyone seemed to have fun. Thanks To Matheus for setting up and tearing down.

We had 2 horses in the Riley Days parade and that went well. People seemed to like seeing them. Thanks to Mike Quimby and Nancy Russell for helping make it possible and J.R. for being on scooping duty.

We have another practice planned for November. We plan to continue through the winter and are making plans for practices next year.

From the Minister of Arts & Sciences

Greetings unto the Gentles of our fair Barony!

Now at last, I can reveal my secret squirrel plan behind a cryptic email to the list and the Facebook group that you may have seen:

I am proud to introduce a new section of my report to you. Sternfeld's Artisan of the Month! I will endeavor to feature an artisan every month as long as I have participation in the form of nominations and responses from the nominees.

To that end, I am very happy to introduce you your first Artisan of the month: THL Rois Alann inghean ui Fhlaithbheartaigh.

Rois hails from 15th century Ireland and is apprenticed to Master Sigulf Karlnar. Her main area of interest is in Glass Bead Making, Research, and education.

Rois is currently working on learning new techniques, sculptured beads to be exact and The Resource and Cultural Directories for The Bead Rescue Project. She has always loved the pretty shiny beads and is also the kind of person who wants to be able to make everything they see, and also know everything about what they do. So it is only natural that why she does it her response is "When I learn to make a new bead, or see one I really like, I research it, to learn all I can about the bead I am also learning how to make."

Rois has been making beads for about two and a half years. I asked her how she got started:

"I saw a glass bead entry at the first event I was taken to, Sternfeld Baronial Birthday in 2010. I told the friend who took me that I have always wanted to learn how to make glass beads. She told me she knew someone who could get me started, and would introduce me to him at an event we were going to a few weeks later. I met Master Sigulf at the Equestrian Symposium in Rivenstar a few weeks later. He had brought his beads and books. He has told me often since, my eyes glazed over and I just couldn't get enough. He knew I was hooked. It was still another 6 months before I could get my first torch, and I haven't stopped since then. I never stopped talking with Master Sigulf and 18 months ago I became his apprentice. “

Her advice for someone wanting to get started in bead making is that “you sit down and make a bead.” Classes are offered at many SCA events. If you are like Rois, “once you make your first bead, you are hooked.” She also advises to speak with your instructor or another beadmaker, learning what equipment you need, which is most important within your budget. They may even help you in obtaining your equipment.

Beadmaking can be an expensive art. A beginning hothead set up will cost less than $100, however a dual mix torch setup can cost $1500, and specialty glasses often cost 2 + times the cost of your basic colored glass. Beadmakers can also help you learn about the different materials and equipment, helping you to make a purchase that you will be able to afford and best work with. Rois says to “Be patient and practice, practice, practice and HAVE FUN!!!!”

Rois admires the work of Master Sigulf Karlnar and Mistress Beatrix Alfray (Ansteorra). She is inspired by the designs of the beads, from the delicate intricacy of the detail work, done on such crude furnaces, to the simple elegance that can be so very difficult to recreate. Beads were most often known as a commodity in the trading and shipping circles. Rois says that she is “fascinated by noting these designs, when they were earliest found and watching as they changed and evolved as they moved through the cultures, shipping routes and time.”

If you are interested in learning about bead making, please reach out to Rois or I can put you in touch with her.

If you have recommendation for Sternfeld's Artisan of the month, Please email me their name and what they are working on to me at MOAS@sternfeld.org.

How are your plans coming along for next year's A&S competition? It will be here before you know it!

As always, if you need something, please feel free to ask. If I don't know, I will make every attempt to find someone to answer your question.

In your service,

Duncan

From the Fencing Marshal

Due to the new baby I've not been able to make it to fighter practice for a couple of weeks but I've been assured that everything is running smoothly while I've been out. Thanks to Moira Eiriksdottir and Cecily O'Donell for keeping up with the loaner gear and taking care of things while I'm out!

Lord Bjorn Arnaldsson

Second poll will be held at Fighter Practice 26-Nov-2014. Concerns raised:

Proximity to BWTA & Simple Day - possible staff burnout.

Likelihood of Coronation being in the area - will people want to travel to two consecutive events in the same area?

Moira is on BWTA as Co-Steward and on the Crown bid as Co-Steward. Sternfeld by-laws specifically disallow the same person from being Steward or Co-Steward of two consecutive events. After some discussion, Moira stepped down as Co-Steward of BWTA; she will be Cecily's Deputy Steward.

Eirik mentioned that his primary objection to bidding for Spring Crown in the past was hotel space, but that is no longer a concern. Moira confirmed this; her research shows that only hotels on the west side fill up and get expensive.
